MILITARY TRIVIA

By Mark Von Weber, Plan of the Week Military Trivia Columnist

June Week (a.k.a.: Commissioning Week) is a celebration that commemorates graduation at the US Naval Academy, replete with pomp and parades. Other traditions include the Plebe (Freshman) Class climbing of Herndon Monument and the much anticipated Blue Angels flyover during graduation. Shown above are newly commissioned US Navy Ensigns and US Marine Corps 2nd Lieutenants tossing their Midshipman covers (hats), replacing them with new ones reflective of their respective service selections.

FINAL EXAM

Counselor's Corner
 By Teresa Lin

"So the weather is nice out, but you're stuck studying and doing homework. You can have the best of both worlds if you manage your time wisely and plan out your day. Map out your deadlines and how long studying and finishing projects will take. Insert periodic study breaks that allow you to spend some time in the sun, but with a time limit, so you can stay on schedule with schoolwork. Only 3 more weeks and you're done!"
