

Plan of the Week

February 15th - 19th , 2016

Veterans Resource Center Events

Monday	15	VRC Classroom reserved 1000-1100
Tuesday	16	Student Veteran Association Meeting 1100, VRC Lounge Fallen Brother Seattle Food drop-off 1200, VRC Lounge
Wednesday	17
Thursday	18	1300-1800 Mahjong VRC Lounge 1330-1530 VRC Classroom reserved
Friday	19

Campus and Community Events

What's new in the VRC

New study aids:

Your VRC has purchased a TI-83 Graphing Calculator and a bunch of study guides ranging from math to APA/MLA style and term paper writing. Stop on by and give them a try! If you don't see your subject let us know and we'll try to acquire a guide for you. Keep the suggestions coming!

Employment Services:

You may see a new face up at the center soon. Ray Gopher, Veteran Employment Specialist from Worksource and Navy Retiree will be here Thursdays around 11:00 to offer employment assistance. Whether you need help with resume writing, job searching or interview tips- Ray can help out in a lot of ways.

MILITARY TRIVIA

By Jon Shimoda, Plan of the Week
Military Trivia Editor

On Dec. 7, 1941, a pilot of the Japanese Navy, Shigenori Nishikaichi, crash-landed his Zero on the Hawaiian island of Ni'ihau after participating in the attack on Pearl Harbor. The island's Native Hawaiian residents were initially unaware of the attack, but apprehended Nishikaichi when the gravity of the situation became apparent. Nishikaichi then sought and received the assistance of three locals of Japanese descent in overcoming his captors, finding weapons, and taking several hostages. Eventually, Nishikaichi was killed by Niihauans "Ben" Kanahale and "Ella" Kanahale. Ben Kanahale was wounded in the process, and one of the islanders that aided Nishikaichi, Yoshio Harada, committed suicide.

The incident and the actions of Nishikaichi's abettors demonstrated the potential for racial or ethnic allegiance to overwhelm national allegiance; this ultimately may have influenced the decision to intern Japanese Americans during World War II.

Counselor's Corner

By Teresa Lin, Veterans Support Specialist

Have midterms and schoolwork bogged you down? Treating yourself to something nice and different can help change your mood. This can be as small as eating a piece of chocolate all the way to taking a trip to the mountains and going for a hike or skiing. Finding a balance between what has to be done for school, work, and other obligations, and enjoying something fun is the key to lowering stress levels.

Check us out on Facebook

<https://www.facebook.com/EdmondsCommunityCollegeVeteransResourceCenter>

Hours of Operation

Monday	Closed
Tuesday	0900-1800
Wednesday	1000-1800
Thursday	0900-1800
Friday	0900-1700